

Benjamin Chambon

Chief Commercial Officer
Barcelona

Benjamin Chambon is Alira Health's Chief Commercial Officer. He supervises commercial operations in the EU and U.S., driving all go-to-market activities. Benjamin is also largely involved in Alira Health's strategic acquisitions and partnerships.

Benjamin has in-depth expertise in strategy for biotech, pharma, and healthcare companies, as well as research and development, (pre)marketing and sales, business development, and M&A. His broad industry consulting experience includes more than 200 transactions.

After several years managing medium-sized international businesses, Benjamin joined Alira Health in 2007, as a manager in healthcare M&A and Business Development. Following that, he was the Executive Vice President of Alira Health's Transaction Advisory practice, and in 2014, Benjamin worked with Gabriele Brambilla to acquire Alira Health from the founder.
